US Patent Office awards micronutrient combination for natural inhibition of coronavirus infectivity

US Patent No: US11419847B2

“Pharmaceutical micronutrient combination and its use to simultaneously inhibit multiple cellular mechanisms of infectivity caused by coronavirus, its variants and mutants”

The claims recognized by the Patent Office in this context include:

- A pharmaceutical micronutrient composition for the prevention and treatment of coronavirus infections.
- To treat a SARS-CoV-2 virus infection by inhibiting attachment to a cognate receptor, cellular entry, replication and cellular egress of the SARS-CoV-2 virus.

- This breakthrough in science-based natural health was developed by the Dr. Rath Research Institute in San Jose, California. Its founder and senior researchers were all colleagues of the late two-time Nobel Laureate Dr. Linus Pauling (†1994), a pioneer of immunology, molecular biology, and later vitamin research.
- This natural health technology is available in the US as a dietary supplement and has no known side effects.
- Our non-profit organization offers this patented health technology – free of charge – to the US government as well as any state and local governments in the US to benefit the people of America.

Published in Wall Street Journal on December 16, 2022.

On 21 December 2022, the World Health Organisation (WHO) announced the imminent end of the nearly three-year global emergency related to the Corona pandemic.

This surprising move comes just five days after the Wall Street Journal, the world's most influential business newspaper, published a unique scientific breakthrough in the fight against COVID. This no longer aims to fight individual coronavirus mutations with ever new vaccines, but to better protect the body naturally against all - including future - variants and mutations of the coronavirus.
